SCHOOL IS BACK!

On the first of September, we went back to school. A few new teachers have joined our school during the summer break. This includes two new English teachers, Mr. Tam and Ms. Ho. We also have a new Principal, Principal Ng. I hope we can have a great school year together!

HELLO PRIMARY 1!

Last year's K3 student have started their first few weeks at LUAAPS. They have to adapt to their new environment. They are still very shy and nervous. I hope they are having fun though! Their English teachers are Ms. Ho and Ms. Zee. I hope they get lots of Panda dollars to spend and save.

MID AUTUMN FESTIVAL

by K.W. Yam

What did you guys do for Mid-Autumn Festival? My friends and I went to try the riddle lanterns hung up around the school. It was difficult, but fun! At home, my dad and I made lanterns, they looked quite funny. I also ate a festival feast. The mooncakes and fruit were so delicious. My parents and I also went to look at the moon. It was round and shone so beautifully!

MURALS EVERYWHERE!

by Sissia Zhang

At the end of last term, some P.4 & 6 students used their imagination and drawing skills to create some beautiful murals. These murals had many themes such as language, science, art and music. When we first saw these murals we felt so excited because they were so colourful! You can find these new murals on the 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th floors!

CHINESE COSTUME DAY!

by Haylie Li

On the 30th October, students wore Chinese costumes or red clothing. It was to celebrate National Day on the 1st October. Students had some fun activities to do in the hall during Chinese lessons. I hope you had fun during this event! I hope you could get the best Chinese costume award too!

TEACHER TALK - MR. TI... AGAIN!

by Taylor Chan

Mr. Ti is an English teacher at our school. He is very tall and likes basketball a lot! He also likes cats and dogs. He likes rice dumplings, just like me! When Mr. Ti is bored he likes to watch Netflix. I want to tell him, "Mr. Ti, looking at too many electronic screens is bad for your eyes!"

Joke of the month: Why did the broom get a poor grade in school?

Answer: It was always sweeping during class!
